WELCOME

Host has lots of energy as he or she welcomes everyone to [Name of Environment]. Host is relatable and inviting. Host can talk about something that happened culturally throughout the week like a big sports game, movie opening, a viral video on YouTube, etc. Host tells them how excited he or she is that they're there and briefly runs through what they can expect. This is especially helpful for first-time guests to make them feel like they know what's happening.

OPENER

HOST: "Hey, everyone! I am so pumped for another month here at [Name of Environment]. Crazy enough it's the LAST month of the year—December! And like every December, it's time to get into the Christmas spirit with a few of these . . .

Host holds up a few presents and shakes them.

"Anybody interested in one of these? Well, you're going to have to play a game for it. I need two teams of three volunteers to play a game I like to call . . . Unwrapping Frenzy

SLIDE: UNWRAPPING FRENZY

Bring volunteers up on stage. Have them stand on the opposite side of the wrapped presents. NOTE: This game can be played with three teams if you are able to have enough presents. See "What You Do" below.

“Now, in just a moment, you will work as a team of three to open up THREE presents. Seems pretty simple, right? Well, I haven’t gotten to the best part.

Host brings out supplies and holds them up.

“One person will wear oven mitts. One person will be blindfolded. One person can’t talk and has to sit in the same place the whole time.

Have teams get ready and decide who will do what.

“You will have to figure out a way to work together to get the presents opened. Inside of each present there is a token. Be the first to hand me three tokens and your team wins! Ready? Any questions? Great! Let’s play!

AUDIO: FUN BACKGROUND MUSIC

NOTE: This will be a little chaotic, so be sure to watch for the safety of the participants as they are running around the stage with blindfolds on, etc. Encourage teamwork. Declare a winner and reward a prize after three tokens are handed in.

COMMUNICATOR SCRIPT (STORY)

SLIDE: THEME BACKGROUND

Communicator enters as Worship Leaders exit.

INTRODUCTION

COMMUNICATOR: “What is going on, friends! Can you believe it is December?! I sure do love this time of the year. Some would even say it’s (singing) the most wonderful time of the year . . . Okay, okay, I’ll stop. But seriously, Christmas time can be so much fun. And not only that, it can actually be pretty meaningful for your family. I imagine that some of you have some special things or traditions that you make sure you don’t miss every year.

Communicator shares a tradition from their childhood or a tradition they celebrate with their family now. Something like the following paragraph.

When I was growing up, we lived really close to New York City. We’d go into the city throughout the year, but there was nothing like Christmas in New York City—the lights and decorations, the Christmas window displays lining the store fronts, Christmas concerts and shows at Radio City Music Hall, and of course, the Rockefeller Center Christmas Tree and ice skating rink! It’s just the best. And every year my sister and I would look forward to our annual Christmas trip into the city. We would spend a whole Saturday wandering around the different neighborhoods to look at the decorations, take in a show, and then end the night at the giant Christmas tree at Rockefeller Center. Those were Christmases I’ll never forget!

“Now maybe you don’t travel at Christmas time, but maybe you have a special meal or service project you do every year. I want to hear about them. What sort of family traditions or plans do you usually do around this time of the year? Take a moment to turn and talk about them with the people next to you!”

Give everyone the opportunity to turn and talk as a group. If time, have a few people share with everyone or have the Small Group Leaders offer up a few ideas.

TENSION

COMMUNICATOR: “Those are some great traditions! You know, one of the things I love about traditions are how they remind you why a certain time of year is special. Maybe you have special things your family does for birthdays, places you spend your time off, or stories that get shared every time you get together with your closest friends. These traditions do more than give us a way to celebrate. They actually can offer us something to look forward to throughout the year. No matter what’s happening, we have these moments that give us hope that we’ll get to be with our loved ones again and share special time together.

“In fact, this time of year really is about hope. There is something about this season . . . where it feels like hope is in the air. But why is hope so important? And if hope is so important, why can remaining hopeful feel so difficult when life feels out of control? How can we stay hopeful no matter what’s happening around us?”

“Wow, that’s a great question—not just for the Christmas season, but for any season, really. Thankfully, the Bible talks A LOT about hope and how we can remain hopeful. The writers of the Bible all experienced moments when they felt like hope was gone, but God met them and reminded them that everything would eventually be okay. Let’s check out one of those moments now.

TRUTH

COMMUNICATOR: “When we think about Christmas, it’s easy to jump into the New Testament of the Bible, where the writers talk about Jesus. But guess what!? Like we’ve been seeing since the beginning of August, the whole Bible is God’s epic love story that is ALL about Jesus. So today, we head back to the Old Testament of our Bible to the time before Jesus was born.

“Remember, in the beginning, out of love, God made an amazing world. But sadly, people turned away from God and the world became broken . . . the world needed a rescuer. God made a plan to bless the whole world through Abraham and the family who was going to come through him. You might remember them, they were called . . . yes, the Israelites! But over and over again, it seemed like the people were just resisting what God had planned for them. We learned about King David. He had a son named Solomon who reigned over the nation as king, but after Solomon ruled, the kingdom of Israel was split into two nations.

“During this time, God spoke through people called prophets to encourage and challenge the people to turn their hearts back to God—and to tell them that God was going to send His Rescuer! One of these prophets was a man named Isaiah.

“Isaiah lived 700 years before the time of Jesus! God allowed Isaiah to understand that his own people would be overtaken by their enemies. Isaiah’s job was to share this terribly sad news with God’s people. This was the sort of sad news that makes you ask, is there any hope? Any good news at all?

“It’s into this world Isaiah shared God’s message. Let’s check it out. First, I need your help. Even though this passage is short, it is PACKED with promises and details about what God’s people could expect. I thought we could visualize this together here on this whiteboard.

Communicator wheels out whiteboard with multiple colors. Use volunteer or Host to help write/draw the passage details.

Open the Bible to Isaiah 9:6a (NIRV) and read.

“‘A child will be born to us. A son will be given to us.’

“Alright, so right away what was being promised?

Allow for responses. Communicator and/or volunteer/Host draws it out.

“Alright, so let’s draw a baby with an ‘It’s a boy!’ sign because it’s a son. But there are some really unique things about this child. Let’s keep reading.

Open the Bible to Isaiah 9:6 (NIRV) and read.

“‘He will rule over us.’

“What was this saying about this child . . . this son?”

Allow for responses. Communicator and/or volunteer/Host draws it out.

“Royalty! Let’s draw a little crown above the baby’s head because this baby is actually a king who will rule.”

“You guys are doing great with this. Let’s keep reading.”

Open the Bible to Isaiah 9:6 (NIRV) and read.

“And he will be called Wonderful Adviser and Mighty God. He will also be called Father Who Lives Forever and Prince Who Brings Peace.”

“So is that his name? How should we understand that? What do you think?”

Allow for responses.

“Right, they are more like titles—characteristics or promised roles. So let’s draw some arrows coming off of this baby to these titles. Help me remember what they were . . .

Allow for responses. Communicator and/or volunteer/Host draws it out.

“Wonderful Adviser or Counselor. Mighty God. Eternal Father or Father Who Lives Forever. Prince Who Brings Peace.”

“Those are some pretty amazing promises! But that wasn’t the end . . . actually it was just the start.”

“Now this next part is pretty cool because it goes beyond the titles to tell us what it will be like when this son—this king—rules. Check this out.”

Open the Bible to Isaiah 9:7 (NIRV) and read.

“There will be no limit to how great his authority is. The peace he brings will never end.”

“So, because He is a king, He has authority. How much authority? (Allow for responses) No limit! And the peace He brings . . . also no limit! Let’s write ‘Authority’ and ‘Peace’ with an eternity sign. Unending.”

“Now, before we continue, let me ask you something. Is unending authority from a ruler always a good thing? Maybe, maybe not, right? What do you think would make the difference?”

Allow for responses.

“Right. It completely depends on what kind of ruler they are! If they’re a dictator or tyrant who is lording over their subjects, only caring for themselves rather than the people they are supposed to lead, well . . . unending authority would be a nightmare. And that’s why this next part is SO important. Check this out.”

Open the Bible to Isaiah 9:7 (NIRV) and read.

“He will rule on David’s throne and over his kingdom. He will make the kingdom strong and secure. His rule will be based on what is fair and right. It will last forever.”

“So that first part is really important—David’s throne. Let’s draw a throne on the whiteboard over here. (Communicator can continue while this is happening.) That is an important connection to the ruler God promised He would send one day. The rescuer. The Messiah. From the line of David. And just like David, He will build that kingdom into a secure one. But did you catch what it said about the way in which He would rule? Like a tyrant? Like someone who only cares about Himself? NO! His rule will be based on what is fair and right . . . and this will go on like this forever.

Communicator and/or volunteer/Host draws it out.

“Let’s write ‘DAVID’ on the seat of the throne to remind us how important this throne is. Then, on the legs of the chair let’s write a couple words that remind us of how this King will rule: ‘FAIR’ on the first one, and ‘JUST’ on the other. His rule will stand on these!

“So let’s look back at what we have. (Scanning the board) A Child, a Son who will grow up and be a King. This King has many titles to describe Him: Wonderful Adviser, Mighty God, Father Who Lives Forever, Prince Who Brings Peace. His authority and peace have NO LIMIT! But His authority will not be like a tyrant or a selfish ruler, but rather this King will rule from the ancient throne of David with fairness and rightness. Justice! And this won’t be just a short-term reign; it will last forever.”

“Isaiah shared a lot of promises here. But did you ever wonder why? Why did God make this promise? Why did God plan to even do this? Well, look at the very end of the verse.”

Open the Bible to Isaiah 9:7 (NIRV) and read.

“‘The Lord’s great love will make sure that happens. He rules over all.’

“Love. (Draws a large heart around the entire visual of the promises) It is God’s great love that drives this WHOLE thing. It is God’s great love that ensured it would happen. It is because of God’s great love that God sent us . . . Jesus.”

Communicator and/or volunteer/Host draw an arrow from the promises pointing all of them to Jesus.

APPLICATION

COMMUNICATOR: “Isn’t it amazing to think that long before Jesus was ever born, God had this all planned out? God knew how Jesus would come into the world, and God knew exactly what we needed in a Rescuer. Now, I’m sure when Isaiah shared these words with God’s people—who were definitely in a time of uncertainty—it was hard for them to see how God would accomplish this plan. They might have even struggled to believe that a king would reign with fairness and justice for ever and ever. They had seen quite the opposite, actually. But these words were meant to give hope. God had not forgotten the Israelites! God had a plan to rescue them!”

“This was an important message for people back then, but you know, it’s also important for us even today to remember God’s promises. Life isn’t always easy. Each one of us will face a moment when we wonder how life will turn out. We question if God still cares or is still working. In those moments, it’s important for us to ask those questions. God wants to hear them, and there are people around us who can help us with them. At the same time, we can take a moment to remember that the hope of Christmas is that God was always working to send a Rescuer. God is still working to make something amazing of our lives. This Christmas, and all through the year, let’s be sure to celebrate the birth of the Son of God, the true King, who will bring peace and justice forever and ever. That is a big promise, but God is a big enough God to carry out a plan like that!”

LANDING

COMMUNICATOR: “Today as you go to groups, think about this:

SLIDE: KEY QUESTION

“What are your plans for Christmas? And as you think about your plans, how does that help remind you of what God had planned for that very first Christmas? How can remembering God’s plan for the world give you hope to face situations in your own life? If you’re not sure how you’d answer some of those questions, don’t worry. You’ll have a chance to chat about them with your Small Group Leader and friends during Small Group. Before you head out, let’s pray and thank God for not only promising to send a Rescuer but for actually making good on that promise and sending us Jesus! That can give each one of us hope this year! Let’s pray!”
